"Rev. Mr. Black" Author Has Lead Role In "Stars"

Billy Ed Wheeler, whose hit song, "The Reverend Mr. Black" has been on the top ten list for several weeks now will play the role of "Mr. Rivers" in the forthcoming outdoor drama "Stars In My Crown," at the Kenlake Amphitheatre. Billy Ed was secured when Martin Ambrose, who originally was to have played the part, was selected for Mary Martin's Broadway play, "Jennie."

In a letter to Mrs. Paul Westpheling, first vice-president of the drama association that is presenting "Stars," Mr. Ambrose wrote:

June 6th
"Dear Mrs. Westpheling,

"I had looked forward to another summer of outdoor drama, and in a part of my home state where I'd never worked, but the opportunity to work in a Mary Martin musical - especially at this juncture in my life - well, it was a bit more than I could resist - although the work will be much less personally and dramatically rewarding than playing Mr. Rivers and working with Hob (Burnet Hobgood) again.

"You've quite a performer coming down there in Billy Ed Wheeler. He is an outstanding young entertainer in his own right, as well as one of the 'hottest' song writers on the top ten charts. The Kingston Trio recording of 'The Reverend Mr. Black' is his song, and they're in the process of recording more of his tunes now. Besides that, he has two excellent albums of his own songs, folk and country, on Monitor records, a single release on United Artists, plus a new album with Joan Toller, on the same label. She also shares one of the Monitor albums with him under her married name, Sommer.

"Actually, for publicity purposes, I'm afraid Bill's a better break for you than I - but it doesn't hurt too much to say it, for we're old friends. Once the show is under way, he'll be quite invaluable as a TV entertainer and good-will ambassador.

"I'm sorry not to have gotten home this summer to work with Hob, but, as I explained to him, I couldn't see losing such an opportunity. Fortunately, you've an excellent Mr. Rivers after all, in spite of the delay.

"With many hopes for a successful summer,

I am respectfully yours,
/s/ Martin Ambrose

INDIVIDUAL SAFETY

Every driver has the power to prevent accidents - and unless he uses it the toll will keep rising.

My old Fulton pride was bustin' out all over when I saw the handiwork of Mrs. Owens for I recalled (and told her so) that in talking with Dr. Kermit Hunter about the dress rehearsal he said: "In all of the 20 other dramas I have written, the costumes for Stars In My Crown, are the most beautifully designed and the most brilliant I have ever seen." He was lavish in his praise of the imagination and the craftsmanship of Artie Marie and her workers - and of course that made me as proud as could be.

Another Fultonian who has a close relationship with "Stars In My Crown," is my good friend Mary Nelle Wright, who has spoken to more people, in more places and travelled more miles than the old time "drummer," preaching the gospel of "Stars." At the press convention last week Mary Nelle cornered Herndon Evans, editor of the Lexington Herald and bent his ear a long time about the wonders of Dr. Hunter's play. Herndon was impressed, for in his column "Between Us" in the Herald he told his readers of the excitement we are feeling about our new tourist attraction in this neck of the woods.

On Tuesday Mary Nelle and I "sort of produced" a 10-minute television show to be presented all over these United States. We'll tell you when and where you can see it when it is shown in this area. As you know the Lexington Herald is a mighty distinguished newspaper so we are justifiably proud of Herndon's comments. Here they are:

Lexington Herald, Monday, June 10, 1963.

By Herndon Evans
Western Kentucky is building up excitement over its first summer outdoor drama. Nestling completion is one of Kentucky's most attractive amphi-theatres, located overlooking Kentucky Lake at the state park which bears the same name. It's in the vicinity of Egger's Ferry bridge and not too far from the Kenlake Hotel.

"Stars in My Crown" is the name of one of the newest outdoor dramas and it tells the story of a plain farmer "who marches down the years facing every tragedy, every trial, every tomorrow, with faith and courage." At least, that's what we're told.

Opening Night Tickets On Sale At News For "Stars In My Crown"

Be sure to tune to WPSD-TV in Paducah on Friday, June 14 at 12:15 p. m. for the Gene Compton news review. Mary Nelle Wright and Jo Westpheling will appear with Mr. Compton to show television scenes of the new amphi-theatre and rehearsal scenes from "Stars In My Crown."

Tickets for the opening performance of "Stars in My Crown," scheduled for June 22 in the new Kentucky Lake Amphitheatre, went on sale Monday, June 10, in Murray, Paducah, Mayfield, Aurora, Benton, Cadiz, and Fulton.

All tickets for the opening performance are unsold and all are $3 each.

In Murray, the tickets will be sold at the "Stars in My Crown" office at 510 Main Street; in Paducah at the Melody Mart, 616 Broadway; in Mayfield at a place to be designated by Amphi-theatre Committeemen Lon Barton; in Aurora at the Hitching Post; in Benton at a place to be designated by Robert Long; in Cadiz at a place to be designated by Smith Broadbent, Jr.; and in Fulton at the Fulton County News Office.

Arrangements for the sale of tickets for performances after the opening night will be announced later.

Ferry - Morse Buys Arizona Seed Company

Ferry-Morse Seed Company, Mountain View, California, has acquired the operations of Advance Seed Company of Phoenix, Arizona, effective May 1, 1963. Rex W. Grabill, president of Ferry-Morse, stated that this will expand and strengthen his company's position in major lines of high quality farm and grass seeds.

Advance Seed Company has long been engaged in the research and production of premium grade hybrid grain and forage sorghums, bermuda grass, millet and alfalfa. Their Research Department recently introduced a revolutionary aphid resistant alfalfa, AS-13, which far outproduces and outlives common varieties of alfalfa.

Many of the management personnel of Advance have joined the staff of Ferry-Morse in their present capacities. Archie Kroloff, Advance President, will become Consultant to Ferry-Morse.

Croft, Cocke Receive Gold Passes From IC

Two Fulton Illinois Central employees, Roy F. Cocke, freight agent, and Carl C. Croft, clerk, were presented with gold passes on June 6 at a luncheon held in the Palmer House Red Lacquer Room in Chicago.

The presentation was made by Wayne A. Johnston, president of the I. C. in recognition of fifty years service with the railroad. Mrs. Cocke and Mrs. Croft accompanied their husbands on the trip. They were guests of the railroad at a special luncheon, after which they witnessed the presentation of the gold passes.

LIONS SEE BULL FIGHT

At the regular meeting of the Lions Club on June 7, Ralph Puckett showed a film of a bull fight, taken while on a trip to Mexico. He was presented by Charles Andrews, who had charge of the program.

Nearly 400 Local Railroad Employees Face Work Stoppage If Strike Carried Out

Rail operating unions agreed Tuesday to a five-day expansion of the deadline in the railroad work rules dispute and delayed the threat of a nationwide strike until next week. If strike plans are carried out it will mean work stoppage for nearly 400 employees employed locally by the Illinois Central Railroad.

Local union leaders said that chances are "dim" that the nation will witness a railroad strike, but it is likely that some concessions in jobs will be made by the unions in order to get an agreement on the demands made of railroad management.

The railroads had agreed Monday night to the extension which Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz requested when it became apparent no settlement could be reached by the first deadline—midnight Wednesday night.

Actually, the agreement by the railroads made a strike unlikely, because they must take the initiative, by putting the disputed work rules into effect, before the five operating unions can react with a strike.

After consultations Monday night and a meeting early this morning, the unions sent the following telegram to Wirtz:

"Please be advised the labor organizations will cooperate."

They also advised the railroads of their decision at the start of new talks this morning.

To speed the negotiations, the session was limited to federal mediators, including Wirtz and his representatives, the railroads and the two unions immediately affected by the work rules issue: the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

In telegrams to both sides, Wirtz said "It is imperative that further intensive negotiations continue without disruption of essential railroad service."

He suggested that the deadline be extended from 12:01 a. m. Thursday to 12:01 a. m. next Tuesday.

There had even been controversy over the date of the deadline—the time when the provisions of the presidential emergency order run out.

The Labor Department had insisted that the ban expired at midnight tonight. Monday all parties agreed that the deadline was midnight Tuesday.

After this deadline, the railroads will be free to do what they have been trying to do for almost four years—put into effect new work rules which will eliminate the jobs of some 40,000 firemen on freight and yard trains. The unions have said they will call a strike when the railroads put the new work rules into effect.

Wirtz met with the negotiators in a long session but there was no sign of progress.

Both management and unions asked Wirtz last Tuesday to step in and try to hasten a settlement. Wirtz said then they reported that agreement had not been reached on any point in the controversy.

The railroads contend that outdated work rules cost them $600 million each year in unnecessary operating cost. They call this featherbedding.

A presidential commission last year agreed that the railroads must have the right to make work rule changes to keep pace with technological advance. It suggested elimination of the jobs of 40,000 firemen from freight and yard trains as a first step.

The five unions involved in the dispute represent 200,000 on-train employees.

Lions Club Plans Safe Driving Tests

The Board of Directors of the Fulton Lions Club has announced that a driver-training course for the youth of the Twin Cities will be conducted over the next eight week period. Instructor will be Chester Caddas.

This program is free to every boy or girl in the twin cities, if they have reached their 16th birthday. All who are interested in learning to drive under proper supervision, should contact Mr. Caddas.

Travel Editors See Preview Of Kenlake Show

HARDIN, Ky., June 11—About two dozen travel editors from newspapers and journals throughout the country got a sneak preview of "Stars In My Crown" this afternoon.

A dress rehearsal of the Kermit Hunter play, which will open June 22 in the new amphi-theatre here, was staged for a group participating in the Kentucky Travel Editors Tour.

Burnet Hopgood is directing the outdoor show.

Two Fultonians Get Degrees At Carbondale

Among the nearly 1400 graduates who will receive degrees today (Thursday) at commencement exercises at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Illinois, are two Fulton Countyans.

They are Margaret S. Moore, of Fulton, who will receive her Bachelor of Science in Education degree and Hampton W. Lillard, Route 1, Water Valley, who will receive his Bachelor of Science in Agriculture degree.

George Cloys Named To Board Of Bar Ass'n

George C. Cloys, well-known and longtime Union City attorney, has been elected to a three-year term on the board of governors of the Tennessee Bar Assn., and as such will represent the Eighth Congressional District.

The election took place Saturday in Gatlinburg at the annual Tennessee Bar Assn. convention. Prior to the election Mr. Cloys had served the association as a member of the legislative committee and on the committee on professional ethics and grievances.

The board of governors is made up of one member from each of the state's nine congressional districts. Three are elected each year at the convention.

Mr. Cloys is a member of the law firm of Heathcock & Cloys, East Main street, is a native of Union City. He attended Vanderbilt University and received his law degree in 1940 from the Nashville School of Law. He was admitted to the bar the same year and has practiced in Union City since that time, with three and one-half years out for Army service.

Mr. Cloys also serves as a member of the State, serves as a member of the State Advisory Council for the Dept. of Employment Security and is a member of the Tennessee Armories commission. He is an immediate past member of the Obion County Board of Election Commissioners.

Coffee Cup Ladies Have Their Work Cut Out In Making Their Influence Known To Leaders

A publisher of a Corinth, Mississippi newspaper presents a letter-to-the-editor from a feminine subscriber with a suggestion which he says "could really make the voice of local ladies felt in Washington." This is probably one of the ranking understatements of the year.

The writer of the letter says it is the feeling of women all over the country that "each of us should be vitally interested in getting through to the Federal Government just what the people of the grass roots need and want." She goes on to tell of a home-makers' movement, "Operation Coffee Cup."

This is the way the woman says it is operated: Key women in the community have a morning or afternoon coffee for neighbors and friends. Along with cookies and coffee, bills of pending legislation are served. Card tables are set up, equipped with stationery, stamps and pens, and the names and addresses of Representatives and Senators in Congress. Each of the ladies is asked to write in her own handwriting, and her own words her wishes about these bills and to send the letter to the men who represent them in Government.

Those who have been saying they want to do something to encourage better government but feel stymied could well take the Mississippi woman's Operation Coffee Cup suggestion.

Citizenship committees in Home-makers and other organizations might be interested in trying it out. No young girl in the throes of her first love affair watches for the postman with more anxiety than our sterling statesmen in Washington. Furthermore, it should be apparent to every thoughtful citizen, male or female, that faced as they are with a discouraging number of grave decisions, our Congressmen are entitled to all the guidance and support their fellowmen can give. Washington can be a mighty lonesome place for the Congressman who can only wonder what they're thinking back home.

If the Coffee Cup girls will do their legislative homework, then take their pens in hand, that hand that rocks the cradle could also have additional strength which would be felt far and wide.

Johnny Was A Fine Young Man, Good Student, But Johnny Met Sudden Death In Auto Mishap

Johnny was a fine young man. He studied hard, posted good grades and was considered a leader in high school. His parents, rightfully, were proud of him. And the neighbors still will tell you he was a "model" son.

But Johnny had a craving — a craving that prevails among thousands of Johnnys today. And among their parents, too.

You could almost call it a disease. Often it is fatal.

It was for Johnny.

Because Johnny liked to drive. Fast.

Yes, speed killed Johnny. It killed nearly 13,000 other people in this country, too, according to a survey by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

Speed caught up with Johnny when he was returning from a high school prom. He approached a sharp curve at precisely 66 miles-an hour.

They buried Johnny three days later. And they buried the girl who had been his date for the evening.

Friends were shocked. Stunned neighbors poured out sympathy to the grief-stricken families.

Months have passed since the accident. But Johnny's father thinks often of his son.

Most of all his dad recalls the days before Johnny was old enough to hold a license... those days when he was teaching Johnny to drive.

And his dad knows only too well who was responsible for Johnny's insatiable craving for speed.

Looks Like Weekly Paper Is Here To Stay With You

The American weekly newspaper is an institution which is as old as the nation, and it has shown the toughest kind of staying power.

For instance, a recent census made by a state news bureau shows that the state's weeklies exceed large dailies in circulation by a margin of 2,158,237 to 2,102,204, and weeklies, it also found, are read in the majority of homes.

The weekly—in an era in which all the media are competing almost desperately for circulation and advertising—has proven its durability beyond any question.

There's very good reason why this should be the case. The weekly and small daily paper, is the community historian—an immortal record of births and deaths, marriages and divorces, business successes and failures, the growth and progress of the town and the county, the changing attitudes of mind that come with passing generations.

Beyond that, the good small newspaper is a molder of opinion. Through its editorial columns it provides not only facts but controversial opinion. It stirs debate and curiosity. In a phrase, it makes people think, and this, perhaps, is its greatest contribution to the nation it has served so well, long and faithfully.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Get The Facts

When H. G. Wells noticed an unusually large stuffed bird in the drawing room of fellow writer, Henry James, he was perplexed and intrigued.

"My dear James," he asked, "what is that?"

"That," James informed him, "is a stork."

"Humph," Wells snorted, "it's not my idea of a stork."

"Apparently, however, it was God's idea of one," James remarked.

It is a human tendency to assume that, because we think something is right, it must therefore be correct.

Reasoning based on sketchy information rather than on complete facts, often leads to faulty and even dangerous conclusions.

In everything you think, say or do, make sure you get all the facts. Base your judgments on reality, not imagination.

Be particularly careful, too, to check whether your idea on any subject is fully in accord with "God's idea."

It will not only help in all your human relationships, but also keep you ever in tune with divine truth... "How much better to acquire wisdom than gold! To acquire understanding is more desirable than silver."

(Proverbs 16-16)

Mrs. L. P. Tuttle of Memphis announces the marriage of her daughter, Vena, to J. P. Williams, Jr. of Crutcheville. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. C. Tedford on May 28. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will make their home in Memphis until he completes his medical training.

Rev. Kelsie Martin, minister of the local First Christian Church, moved his residence to Fulton on June 4 for the next few months. He has been studying in Vanderbilt University the past school year and comes to Fulton to spend his full time ministering in the community. He will live at the home of Mrs. R. E. Pickering at 100 Eddings Street.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation held its quarterly Police Conference at Fulton on June 11 in the Orpheum Theatre and the Woman's Club. Law enforcement officers from Trigg, Lyon, Graves, McCracken, Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman and Fulton Counties were in attendance.

100 Years Ago This Week

An historical review of the Civil War day by day in Kentucky, as reviewed by the Kentucky Civil War Commission.

By JOE JORDAN

One hundred years ago this week the Third Confederate Cavalry Division, composed largely of Kentuckians, left its camp at Alexandria, Tenn., and rode to the Cumberland River, which it crossed not far from the small town of Rome. Its commander, Brig. Gen. John Hunt Morgan, for some time had wished to attack a Federal force which occupied a strongly fortified position at Carthage, Tenn., and at last Confederate Gen. Braxton Bragg had authorized him to do so.

The division marched on two or three miles north of the river and encamped for the night—all of it except a part of one regiment, under Col. W. W. Ward, which had been assigned a special mission. This force rode on until it reached a turnpike which connected Carthage and Hartsville, Tenn. The Confederates had learned that the United States mail passed along that road two or three times a week, escorted by Union soldiers, and that sutlers' wagons often accompanied it in order to have the protection of the escort. (Sutlers were civilian merchants who accompanied or followed the troops and sold food delicacies, liquor, and other supplies not issued by the government.)

The Rebel cavalymen concealed themselves and waited. Shortly after dark, along came the mail train, sutlers' wagons, and an escort of between 80 and 100 soldiers. At the first volley, according to Duke's History of Morgan's Cavalry, "they went in every direction in the wildest confusion. Not a shot was fired in return, but the escort manifested plainly that it felt a very inferior degree of interest in the integrity of postal affairs. Few prisoners were taken, but the mail and the wagons were secured. In one of the latter, a corpulent sutler was found wedged in a corner, and much alarmed. He was past speaking when drawn out, but faintly signed that a bottle he had in his pocket should be placed to his lips."

That night, as the Confederate troopers divided the goodies found in the sutlers' wagons, an officer of Gen. Bragg's staff rode into camp with orders for Morgan. The Carthage attack was called off; Morgan was ordered to set out with his division and ride with all possible speed to Monticello, Ky. A Federal raiding party had broken into East Tennessee and was threatening Knoxville. Morgan must try to intercept it when it returned to Kentucky.

So the Confederates crossed back over the Cumberland and headed east. They soon got into rugged country, with very poor roads. At Livingston, Tenn., they were over-taken by a tremendous rain, which continued pouring down for nearly three days. The dirt roads became almost impassable. Time after time the division's four mounted guns and the artillery caissons sank axle-deep into mudholes from which they were dragged out with great difficulty. The Confederates reached Albany, Ky., three days later than they should have, to learn that the enemy raiders had escaped.

HOW MUCH OCEAN?

The Divine mind is infinite and within it are infinite resources. Infinite Life, Infinite Love, Infinite Wisdom, Infinite Power, and Infinite Substance. The only question is, How much of these things can you appropriate for your use?

How much INTELLIGENCE can you assimilate and make use of? How much UNDERSTANDING can you grasp? How much DIVINE LOVE can you experience? How much DIVINE SUBSTANCE can you make your own? The supply is unlimited; the only limit lies within yourself.

When you go down to the seashore, you find what is practically an unlimited supply of sea water at your disposal. There are billions and billions of gallons of water there, but the amount which you can carry away will depend upon the vessel with which you have provided yourself. If you take a 10-gallon can, you can take away 10 gallons; if you take a pint, you can take away a pint of water. If it is a thimble, then you will only be able to carry away a very little water.

So it is with DIVINE ABUNDANCE. The only limit is the limit of our capacity to receive.

THANK GOD FOR YOUTH

Thank God for Youth with the strength of life, And the will to serve, and the heart to pray; Thank God for the marvelous wonder-gift Of Youth today. There are paths to be strengthened within our land; There are darkened ways that have need of light; Thank God for the Youth of earth who stand Foursquare for the right.

There is need for a vision of undimmed eyes; There is need for hands that are clean and strong; For backs that are straight, and hearts that are wise; For lips with a song.

Thank God for Youth with its latent powers; Thank God for Youth that yet may bring Out of these failures that have been ours Some better things.

Friendliness Of Pope John Radiated To All Faiths; Most Popular World Leader

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

Not long ago, the story goes, an Orangeman—a typical champion of the northern Ireland opposition to the Catholic Church—was watching television and looking sadder and sadder as he watched. Asked what was wrong, he replied glumly:

"Well, I'm watching the Pope—and I'm afraid I'm getting to like him."

It has been part of the greatness of Pope John XXIII that, no matter what anyone's past reaction to Rome, people of virtually all persuasions have liked him. No other Pope in modern history has been so popular.

"The people's Pope," Methodist Bishop Fred Pierce Corson, of Philadelphia, once called him. "He has opened the door to take us all out of our isolation."

This, even more than his personal magnetism, has been the towering achievement of Pope John. By force of his vision and his deeds he has cracked the thick, centuries-old wall between Rome and the rest of Christendom.

"The Pope of Unity" is a common and apt designation.

Real Conversations Opened

As a result of his innovations new ties have formed with other churches, and they have entered into real conversations, not only through the Second Vatican Council, but rippling out from it in cities and towns around the globe.

"In our lifetime we have witnessed developments that one would have considered almost impossible only a few years ago," says the Rev. W. A. Visser 't Hooft, general secretary of the World Council of Churches.

When portly little Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli became Pope back in 1958, he gave a brief talk that hinted at the course he would follow. He said he might not conform to the usual non-Catholic image of the papacy, and added:

"The fact is that the new Pope, through the happenings of life, is like the son of Jacob who, meeting with his brothers, showed them the tenderness of his heart and, bursting into tears, said, 'I am Joseph, your brother.'"

And that is how it has been ever since every believer was a "beloved brother."

Received Many Observers

Not only did he set up the Vatican Secretariat for Christian Unity, providing the first official liaison between Rome and Protestantism since the Reformation, but he said both sides had been at fault in the past and should seek mutual ways back together.

He began sending Catholic observers to Protestant-Orthodox gatherings and also received a succession of Protestant and Orthodox callers. And he sat down in warm, informal conversation with Protestant observers at the Vatican Council.

"I cannot remember any occasion on which we were divided on principle," he said.

He emphasized not return but reconciliation. Shattering the old view that Rome could never change, he told the opening of the Vatican Council that the substance of truth was unalterable, but not its understanding and expression. He saw room for variety. "One art," he said, "a thousand styles."

An insight into his attitude was provided early in his reign, in the spring of 1959, when he was visited by Archbishop Iakovos, head of the Greek Orthodox Church in North and South America.

I have an unpublished account of their conversation. "My wish," the Pope said at one point, "would be to prove myself a forerunner for the coming of church unity."

The archbishop: "In what sense do you understand unity?"

The Pope: "Unity is that which can be effected only by and through love."

The Archbishop: "Therefore I presume that unity in your mind cannot be understood in terms of submission of each church of the Roman Catholic Church?"

The Pope: "Of course not. I don't believe that unity can be promoted unless we promote it through equality, fraternity, and freedom of expression."

Trades Small Talk At Reception

I will never forget the Pope's reception for the Protestant observers in Consistorial Hall at the Vatican. He moved from person to person clasping the hand of each, trading small talk. Then he took an ordinary chair among them, shunning the customary papal throne.

"If you could read my heart," he told them, "you would perhaps understand more than words can say."

Short and stout, with square, chunky, face, broken nose and large ears and mouth, he is said to have once told a caller he sometimes prayed, "Dear God, You knew I was going to be Pope. Did You have to make me so ugly?"

Fulton Countian Among Murray Graduates Receiving Scholarship

Seven persons were awarded Alumni Scholarships to Murray State College last night (Saturday, June 1) at the MSC Alumni Banquet.

The scholarship winners, all recent graduates from high school, are Maurice Carr Bondurant, Fulton County High School; Barbara Jean Bullard, Henderson County; Phillip H. Davis, Daviess County; Mary Ida Humphrey, Durrett High School, Louisville; Donald Wilson Oliver, Murray College High; Betty Jane Roberts, Hickman County; and Sarah Lou Smedley, Paducah, Tilghman.

The scholarships were made possible by the association's first alumni-giving drive, instituted last February. The association had planned to award five scholarships but decided to give seven when funds collected exceeded the goal.

Bondurant, valedictorian of his class, will study pre-medicine at Murray. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bondurant of Hickman.

Miss Bullard, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Clayton Bullard of Henderson, was also valedictorian of her class. She will major in either mathematics or music.

Davis, valedictorian of his graduating class of 235 persons, will major in physics. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Davis of Owensboro.

Miss Humphrey ranked tenth in her class of 267. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Humphrey, 3203 East Indian Trail, Louisville, she plans to be a linguist.

Oliver, another valedictorian, will major in physics and chemistry. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Everett Oliver of Murray.

Miss Roberts, salutatorian of her class, will enroll in pre-medicine. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roberts.

Miss Smedley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas Smedley of Paducah, will study science and mathematics. She was salutatorian of her class of 225 students.

President Ralph H. Woods, who presented the scholarships, said, "Receiving an Alumni Scholarship is a signal honor and attests your outstanding high school achievements. My deep appreciation goes to the Alumni Association, and to each alumnus who has contributed to the scholarship fund. By so doing he has contributed to the development of his Alma Mater, making it possible for deserving young people to get an education."

M. O. Wraether, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, was principal speaker at the banquet. He reviewed the history of the college, discussed its future problems and the part alumni could play in helping solve them, and lauded the association for its having instituted a program of annual giving.

Concluding, he quoted President John Dickey of Dartmouth who urged alumni of Dartmouth to "Give to build strength upon strength for the future."

Wilson Gantt of Murray was installed as president of the Alumni Association, and Beverly Spurrier of Owensboro was installed as vice-president.

Some 500 Murray State Alumni attended the banquet.

Judith Ann Matheny, James Allen To Wed At Pilot Oak On Sunday

The marriage of Miss Judith Ann Matheny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Matheny of Pilot Oak, and James Kenneth Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Allen of Route 3, Martin, will be solemnized in the Pilot Oak Baptist Church on Sunday, June 16, at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Roy Fleming, pastor of the church, will officiate.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father. She has chosen her sister, Miss Wanda Kay Matheny, as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Arleen Matheny, cousin of the bride, and Miss Nancy Allen, sister of the groom.

A reception will be given in the home of the bride's parents immediately following the wedding. Friends and relatives of the young couple are invited to attend the wedding.

Miss Rose Hyland, Exchanges Vows With Joseph Cekander On June 1

The marriage of Miss Caroline Rose Hyland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hyland of Fulton, and Eugene Joseph Cekander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Cekander of Chicago, took place at 10 a. m. on June 1 at St. Edwards Church in Fulton. Rev. Carl Glahn, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony and offered the nuptial high mass.

James Pawlukiewicz and Michael Fenwick served as acolytes. Miss Charlotte Mangold and Miss Mary Fenwick sang the high mass and hymns, with Robert Anderson at the organ.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown of white satin, with fitted bodice and long fitted sleeves. The floor length full skirt fell gracefully over hoops. Her veil was elbow length and fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white orchid with stephanotis and white satin streamers.

Miss Patricia Teagon of Memphis was the maid of honor. Mrs. Bill McAmis, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Anita Hyland, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore identical blue satin dresses with short sleeves, fitted waists, and full skirts and carried small arm bouquets of white carnations with blue satin ribbons.

Kenneth Hupp, of Chicago, attended the groom as best man and ushers and groomsmen were James Thais of Vincennes, Ind., Patrick Hyland, brother of the bride, and Robert Hyland.

A reception at Park Terrace followed the ceremony.

After a wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Miss Curlin, Mr. Smithmier Plan Wedding

Plans have been completed for the wedding of Miss Brenda Pauline Curlin and Lawrence Edward Smithmier, whose engagement was announced April 6.

The wedding will be solemnized at the Beulah Baptist Church at eight o'clock Saturday evening, June 29, with the Rev. T. Y. Smithmier performing the double ring ceremony.

Miss Curlin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Curlin of Clinton, Kentucky, Route 1. Mr. Smithmier is the son of Rev. and Mrs. T. Y. Smithmier of Clinton, Kentucky.

No formal invitations are being sent, but all friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

James Read To Wed Mrs. Stinson On Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Babb, of New Haven, Connecticut, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mrs. Barbara Stinson, to James Livingston Read, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Livingston Read of Buffalo, New York.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, June 15, at the home of the bride's parents, with the Reverend Sidney Lovett, Yale Chaplain Emeritus, performing the ceremony. Only the immediate family and a few friends will attend.

The groom's parents are former Fultonians. He is a nephew of Mrs. Lawrence Holland and Mrs. Alf Hornbeak and the grandson of the late Dr. and Mrs. I. H. Read.

Day Of Dimes

Changes had to be made in the nominating committee's slate of officers for the Fulton-South Fulton B&PW Club, with the result that the following were elected at the meeting on June 4 to serve during the coming year:

Mrs. Ramelle Figue, president; Mrs. Lorene Harding, vice president; Mrs. Anna Belle Edwards, recording secretary; Mrs. Ann Whitnel, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ruth Grooms, treasurer. These officers will be installed at the July meeting by Mrs. Nelle Low, past president of the club.

The club has voted to sponsor classes in Personal Development; however, it was decided to postpone these classes until fall.

Members were reminded to bring books to the News office not later than June 15, these books to be sent to the first college in the Virgin Islands.

Mrs. Marie Holland delighted members with her presentation of the "Tater" family—Emmy, Dick, Aggie, Speck, Hattie and Sweet, using potatoes dressed to represent the members of the family. Her talk was a devotional and also a challenge to members of the club.

Mrs. Kellena Durbin, president, was in charge of the meeting and gave a report of the State Convention which she attended in Louisville last month.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sullivan and daughters Judy and Janice, from Dothan, Ala., returned home on June 11, after visiting with Mrs. Sullivan's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Rice, 406 Second Street, Fulton.

Mr. Sullivan, who is a Chief Warrant Officer in the U. S. Army and stationed in Alabama, is being sent to France the 1st of July for three years and his family will accompany him.

While here, the Sullivans and Mrs. Rice drove up to Sikeston, Mo., and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Elam.

Homes Abound with Potential Poisons, AMA Official Warns

Children, supposedly "safe at home," are poisoning themselves at the rate of nearly 1,500 a day. "When you consider that more than a quarter million home-used products on the market contain toxins, it is not difficult to understand why more than 500 children die each year from self-administered poisons," said F. J. L. Blasingame, M.D., executive vice-president of the American Medical Association.

Children are naturally curious, especially the very young ones. They are prone to stick into their mouths anything they can get in their hands. It doesn't even have to taste good or look pretty.

Most accidental poisonings occur in children under five. Two-year-olds are the most poison prone, with one-year-olds close behind. At this stage in life their curiosity is at its height and their sense of fear not yet developed, Dr. Blasingame explained.

Medicine, especially aspirin, heads the list of items children seem to like to sample, accounting for nearly half of all accidental poisonings. In fact, too much of virtually any medicine can produce serious consequences.

Among the supposed non-edibles that frequently find their way into children's stomachs are cleaning and polishing agents, detergents, shoe polish, cosmetics, waxes, insecticides, paint, turpentine, chalk, bleaches, plant foods, plaster, perfume and decorations.

Medicines account for nearly half of all accidental poisoning in United States each year. Discard unused medicine and keep rest out of children's reach.

A primary cause of such accidents, says Dr. Blasingame, is storing poisonous substances in food containers or soft drink bottles. A toddler just naturally assumes that a soft drink bottle contains a treat. He'll drink whatever he finds in it.

"The facts are clear," he warned. "Between 65 and 70 per cent of all poisonings take place because an item was accessible to a child."

"If we're going to live in modern homes with modern conveniences and modern medicines, we have to develop some up-to-date standards that will make home safe for our children."

Among suggestions for lessening the poisoning hazards in the home, Dr. Blasingame suggested:

- Keep potential poisons out of reach and tightly sealed.
- Never transfer toxic materials into household utensils.
- Don't leave your child alone in a room in which you're working with poisons.
- Give medicines only in a lighted room.

If your child might have taken a poisonous substance, call your doctor for instructions at once. Don't wait to see what happens.

● DETROIT NEWS By Roy Mauer

The weather is simply grand. The young people and some of the older ones enjoyed the holiday at Kensington Park, with all kinds of games and other sports, and everybody was tired.

Our sick folks are all at home now and recovering from their illnesses and operations.

Last Wednesday night we had a memorial service for members and friends who have passed on. Bro. Donald Nunn brought a very good message for the occasion. Why not drop in some Sunday morning and hear Rev. Nunn? You'll get a blessing from his message. Mrs. Mayme Phelps was at our church Sunday evening.

Remember the workers' council Sunday, pot luck. Try and be there.

Good news! The Men's Fellowship purchased one of those new riding power mowers. We only have four and a half acres of grass to cut, which is lot easier to do now with "Besty" than before we had her starting.

June 2 evening services will start at 3:30 P. M.

Next Saturday night is Fidelity Class meeting at 6 p. m. Bring a "pot" and stay for the meeting. You are all invited.

Our Vacation Bible School starts July 1, through July 12. We will have classes for young and old people, so you can come in any class or help serve refreshments. The time this year is 6 to 9 p. m. for classes. You people who come to Detroit for your vacation, why not come to see our church and hear Rev. Nunn. You will enjoy him, just as we do, and will also meet a lot of your old friends and make some new ones, too. See you in church Sunday. Your church needs you and you need your church. Together, we make the best company. Call me at 8393074, if just to say hello.

Mrs. Bauman Is New President Of Science Church

Mrs. Helen Wood Bauman became the new President of the Christian Science Church today.

Her appointment was announced in Boston before several thousand members assembled for the annual meeting at their world headquarters in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Mrs. Bauman is editor of the denomination's religious periodicals, and will continue in that position while filling the one-year term as President. She first began her service to the church as an organist in St. Joseph, Missouri, after studying music for a number of years in Boston and London. Since then, she has served in many capacities, including teacher and practitioner of Christian Science.

CHAMPION IN TRAINING!

Jim Champion, local Southern Bell Telephone Company manager, left June 6 for two weeks training in the Marine Corps reserve at Parris Island, South Carolina. Mr. Champion is a Lieutenant in reserve.

PREACHING SERVICES!

Come hill... or high water
Vacations go smoother in a Chevrolet Corvair

Bring on those mountains! They're not so high and mighty when you've got Corvair's gutsy six and rear-engine traction working on them.

You scurry up the meanest grades. You move with sure-footed agility on wet pavement, muddy lanes, gravel and other would-be miseries.

And with most of Corvair's weight on the rear wheels, you have easy steering, too. Fact is, the handling's so light and responsive we don't even offer power steering for the car.

And there's more to feel good about. No problems with your radiator boiling over or going dry, because there's no radiator. Corvair's engine is air cooled. No concern about brake adjustments, either, because the brakes adjust themselves. Nothing much to think about at all except the good time you're having.

NOTEBOOK

what the brochure which advertises the play says. The drama tells the story of Western Kentucky, its trouble with the "Night Riders" during the tobacco wars, and of the development that followed the advent of TVA into the region. Such characters as Vice President Albert Barkley, Irvin S. Cobb, Paducah's gifted writer; William Kelly, whose processes for making steel preceded the Bessemer process by many years, and Nathan Stubblefield, of Murray, the first man to perfect the wireless telegraph and make possible the radio.

Kermit Hunter, whose "Unto These Hills" still entertains large crowds nightly at Cherokee, N. C. after a quarter of a century, is the author of the drama. Murray, Benton and the numerous small towns in the lake region of Western Kentucky are getting all excited about the new drama and there seems no question about filling the beautiful amphitheater of the park. The seating capacity is about 1,100 and the backers of the project don't seem worried about filling the amphitheater night after night. The Western Kentucky parks, Kentucky Lake, draw the largest attendance of any parks in the country and from this volume the drama hopes to keep most of its seats filled during the season.

The drama is to open the night of June 22, and it will run until Sept. 2. Looking at the site of the amphitheater last week as workmen rushed about trying to put the finishing touches, we felt some doubt that everything would be in readiness by curtain time June 22, but having seen sod being put down and trees and shrubs being planted on the opening night of "The Stephen Foster Story" just a few years ago we feel sure that everything will be in readiness for the grand opening.

A cast of 60 persons will present this new drama. Auditions were held early and the cast has been rehearsing day and night. The amphitheater is built of concrete somewhat similar to the one at Berea where "The Wilderness Road" was presented for several seasons. It is on a bluff overlooking Kentucky Lake and it will be possible, at some seasons of the year, to remove the back wall—which serves as a sounding board—and utilize the seats as "bleachers" for regattas, ski shows or races.

If you plan to be in Western Kentucky by all means see this outdoor drama. Again copying the brochure, it will tell the story of a "great land, a great people, a great vacation spot" and there will be "beautiful music, panoramic dances, fun, excitement, tragedy and triumphs." Now what more could one ask in one night?

Summer is really here. We had some real hot days last week.

W. W. Brann passed away Saturday night at his home near Pilot Oak, after several weeks illness. Our sympathy goes out to the family in their bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Zollie Holland, of Mayfield, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tremon Rickman.

Estal Emerson is a patient in a Fulton Hospital. He seems to be some better.

Mrs. Mary Hendricks, of Farmington Route, is visiting her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McGuire, at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Matthews and Larry attended preaching service at Jackson Chapel recently and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott.

Mrs. Addie Walston, of Wingo, visited Mrs. Lure Wray last week and attended the revival at Pilot Oak Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ruddle were Saturday guests of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Ruddle and children, of Gibbs.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Taylor called on the A. A. McGuires and Mrs. Hendricks Saturday night. Other visitors were the Bill Matthews.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yates were the supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Sparks Friday night.

Miss Allie Rowland has been staying at home the last few weeks, but is going to visit her brother L. A. Rowland, at Lynn Grove this week.

Our sympathy goes out to Mrs. Pearl Carr in the loss of her mother, Mrs. Vodie Yates, of St. Louis.

GOD Is A Good God

By Willis Hicks

There are people who believe in miracles. There are people who say miracles ended with the death of the disciples of Christ. Many people believe in divine healing for their bodies, others say it is preposterous. Yet we read in Malachi 3:6, "I am the Lord, I change not..." Other scriptures tell us that God does not lie, neither is He a respecter of persons. His promise, "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my word shall not pass away," surely means that God will not change.

While I do not understand the mysteries of that great, big God of ours, I cannot doubt his supremacy. If He can cause the flowers to bloom in the spring and cover the limbs of the trees with green leaves, surely He can heal the bodies of the mortals that he created. It would be a ridiculous statement to say that God has lost

His power. Neither is He so old that His mind is slipping. Never will He forget His promises to His people. Can we then deny God's word, limit His capabilities, and say that God has forgotten His promises? Should Jesus have died just for a few people, or can we be included in His plan for salvation? If we then accept His death as our means of salvation, then can we limit his healing power? Has Jesus the same power to forgive sins, yet unable to heal?

Recently I read an article in one of Rev. Oral Roberts' magazines. The story was so inspiring that I wrote Bro. Roberts, asking permission to reprint some articles in his books.

Surprisingly enough, he not only gave me permission to reprint the articles, he also sent other literature even more heart-warming than the first ones. His only request was that I mention the source of each article. He has such a stirring sermon on the life of Paul in the May issue of the Abundant Life magazine that, beginning next week, I shall endeavor to reprint it. The sermon will probably be printed in three parts. The title of the message is "Scarred Saints" and as you read each paragraph you will agree with Bro. Roberts, "God is a good God."

Kentucky Rolls Out Carpet For Travel Editors; Visit To "Stars In My Crown"

Kentucky has rolled out the red carpet of hospitality for the 1963 Travel Editors Tour.

Thirty-two editors from newspapers, national magazines, and feature syndicates have accepted invitations to join the statewide tour June 8-16. Publications which will be represented have a combined total of more than 15 million circulation.

Cattie Lou Miller, commissioner of the State Department of Public Information, said the tour is designed to acquaint these out-of-state editors with Kentucky's historical and scenic sites and to give them a close-up look at results of the State's $19.9 million parks expansion program launched in 1961.

Co-sponsored by the Department of Public Information, the Department of Parks and other travel interests, the tour is one phase of an intensified program to advertise and promote Kentucky's State parks system. The tour route ranges from Kentucky Lake in the West to Cumberland Gap in the East.

First stop will be the Governor's Residence in Frankfort, where the editors will be guests of Gov. and Mrs. Bert Combs at a reception. Other stops on the tour include Louisville, Lexington and the horse farm country, Mammoth Cave, Wolf Creek Dam, Harrodsburg, and Bardstown.

Visits are also scheduled for 14 of Kentucky's 33 State parks—Kentucky Dam Village, Kentucky Lake, Pennyroyal Forest, Jefferson Davis Monument, Lake Cumberland, General Burnside Island, Cumberland Falls, Pine Mountain, Levi Jackson, William Whitley House, Constitution Square, Pioneer Memorial, Lincoln Homestead, and My Old Kentucky Home.

Among national magazines that will be represented on the tour are National Geographic and Bride's Magazine. One of the touring editors will be J. Harold Brislin of Scranton, Pa., a past winner of the Pulitzer Prize for reporting.

AT MEETING!

Boys In The SERVICE

With 10-weeks of basic training behind them, three Fulton County men are home on 14 days leave before beginning additional training in the Navy. Visiting with their parents are fireman apprentice Donald Ray Bunton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bunton, Route 4, Fulton, Seaman Apprentice Randall D. Pope, son of Mrs. Lillian McKelvy Route 2, Fulton and Fireman Apprentice Randall M. Jeffress, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Jeffress, Route 1, Crutchfield.

All three young men joined the Navy under the Navy high school graduate training program and completed their initial training at San Diego, Calif. Young Jeffress will return to the naval base at San Diego, Calif. to begin a 15 weeks course in a naval electrician school, then to a 8 weeks school in submarines at New London, Conn. Young Bunton will return to the naval base, Philadelphia, Penn. for special duty and young Pope will return to the naval base, Key West, Fla. for special duty also before being assigned to the fleet.

OKINAWA—Marine Staff Sergeant Leroy Hicks, son of Mrs. Norah Lynch of Route 5, Fulton, Ky., departed Camp Pendleton, Calif. May 1 as a member of the First Battalion, First Regiment of the First Marine Division slated for a 13-month tour of duty with the Third Marine Division on Okinawa.

Upon arriving at the Far East island they will be redesignated the Second Battalion, Ninth Regiment.

Shortly after joining the Third Division, the unit will participate in mountain and cold weather training at Mt. Fuji, Japan. They will also spend a two-month training phase as the Seventh Fleet's floating battalion landing team with scheduled visits to Hawaii, Japan, Korea, the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong and the Philippines.

This unit transfer is part of the transplacement system designed to keep the Okinawa-based division an effective part of the nation's "force-in-readiness."

U. S. AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo.—Cadet James W. Tipton of Hickman, Ky., who recently completed his first year at the Air Force Academy, is on a field study trip to Air Force, Army and Navy installations across the United States.

Cadet Tipton, a member of the class of '66, will receive detailed briefings and participate in actual jet flights and shipboard activities during the trip. The training is designed to give him a thorough indoctrination on major operational commands of the Department of Defense.

The cadet is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodard C. Tipton, Rt. 1, Hickman. He is a graduate of Fulton County High School.

FORT RILEY, KAN. — Army Specialist Four William F. Green, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Green, Route 3, Hickman, Ky., qualified as expert in firing the M-14 rifle at Fort Riley, Kan., early in May.

"Pete and Repeat" Take Honors At Tennessee District Demonstration

Bonita Burrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Burrow, and Carmen Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ham Gardner, both of South Fulton, took top honors in the District Share-The-Fun Contest on District Demonstration Day for West Tennessee 4-H Clubs held in Jackson, Tenn., on June 1.

Bonita and Carmen, calling themselves "Pete and Repeat," made their first appearance in the recent BYFY Talent Show here. They won second place in the Obion County Share-The-Fun Contest. They sing a duet, "The Craw-dad Song," accompanying themselves on the ukelele, and are dressed in appropriate costumes.

They will represent the District in the State 4-H Share-The-Fun contest in Knoxville in August.

Other South Fulton winners in demonstrations were: Gene Cannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cannon, first place in entomology and a scholarship to the State 4-H Roundup at Knoxville; Susan Burrow, second place in the frozen food demonstration; Brent Burrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Burrow, third place in the senior division in tractor demonstration.

Dr. John W. Oswald

Dr. John W. Oswald, vice-president of the University of California, will become the sixth president of the University of Kentucky on September 1. Named to the post by the UK Board of Trustees, he succeeds Dr. Frank G. Dickey, who is to become executive director of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

OBION COUNTY FARM NEWS

By Richard Couch
Asst. County Agent

This will be my last news column as your Assistant County Agent.

It is with deep regret that I leave Obion County and 4-H Club Work. This past year and a half has been a joyous, satisfying experience for me. There is no work in the world more enjoyable than working with children, especially the caliber of those in 4-H Club work.

As I see it, there are two main avenues of 4-H work, in terms of getting the most out of club work. RECORD BOOKS and DEMONSTRATIONS!! The boy or girl who sets his goal to achieve the most should keep these 2 things in mind. Record books are essential to winning 4-H Work, in all projects. Demonstrations are necessary in most projects, but even in those, record books count 60 to 57 percent of the total score. I'm talking about winning at the district, state and national levels. However, anyone who wishes to set his goals for these heights, can win with work and effort!!

Those 4-H'ers who achieve the most from 4-H Work have their parents or an adult backing, encouraging, and pushing them in 95 percent of the cases. Therefore, I repeat: "ADULT LEADERS ARE ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL TO 4-H CLUB WORK!! In a" bases, club meetings, organizations and project work.

A tired business man can't usually spry when it's time to play.
